Bomb Threat Cleared at Augusta Health

FISHERSVILLE, VIRGINIA— Augusta Health is pleased to announce that the bomb threat reported earlier today has been cleared.

Following a thorough investigation and extensive safety checks, authorities have determined that there was no credible threat to the facility. Augusta Health has resumed normal operations and is taking all necessary steps to ensure the continued safety and security of our patients, staff, and visitors.

Augusta Health would like to thank the local law enforcement agencies, emergency responders, and the community for their cooperation and patience during this situation.
